Rabbi Laifer's Song

Every bochur is so special in his own way,
Every boy is an olam malei.
Now if you don't agree with me,
Please look a little more deeply.

Then came the days of stay-at-home,
We did our best, but we were all alone.
But then we thanked Hashem for saving us from strife,
For giving us the gift of life

Who could have predicted this from the start?
How we were forced to stay far apart
But the further way we did go,
The closer we did grow.

Hashem, please bring us back together,
Then we will serve You even better!
How long for this day do we yearn and crave,
Karov Hashem l'nishbirei leiv.

The rebbe and the talmid fused together,
We're not two but we're one forever.
The Torah we have learned, it is who we are,
No distance can be too far.

The rebbe and the talmid fused together,
We're not two but we're one forever.
The Torah we have learned, it is who we are,
No distance can be too far

The bond that we formed is so real,
The closeness, you can feel.
The achdus in this class, it shall prevail,
Chaverim kol Yisroel.

The bond that we formed is so real,
The closeness, you can feel.
The achdus in this class, it shall prevail,
Chaverim kol Yisroel.

The first half of the year was smooth sailing,
With learning and shteiging and growing.
I still hear those Friday songs;
Oh, for those days I do long.

The rebbe and the talmid fused together,
We're not two but we're one forever.
The Torah we have learned, it is who we are,
No distance can be too far.
